Review quote

"Ideal if you're looking for something a bit cheeky, a bit naughty, and lots of fun. Recommended." -- Keith Dudhnath * TheBookbag.co.uk * "Vibrant illustrations full of colour, energy and life couple the text in an equally humorous way." * Early Years Educator * "A very enjoyable cautionary tale with flowing text and really funny illustrations. Children will love this one." * Parents In Touch * "A book which is likely to bring smiles to many children's faces." * The School Librarian * "Funny cautionary tale with wonderful rhyming text." * EYE *

About Jeanne Willis

Jeanne Willis is one of the most successful children's picture book authors. She also writes for television and video companies, and has two children. Amongst her many other prize-winning books, she has written Who's in the Loo? which was shortlisted for the Nottingham Children's Book Award, won the Red House Picture Book Award and was the overall winner at the Sheffield Children's Book Award.

Margaret Chamberlain was born in London and grew up in Weybridge, Surrey. She studied at the Royal College of Art. With Quentin Blake as her tutor, she was inspired to start illustrating children's books. She now lives in Lyme Regis, Dorset with her husband Ian Dicks, the cartoonist.
